

Horizontal spacing

Horizontally, items close to one another are spaced apart using the values of 8px, 16px, 32px and 64px.

Example: the items in this tag cloud are spaced 16px apart.

Example: the menu items in the main navigation are spaced 64px apart, as you can see above.

The spacing depends from element to element, so check out the design system for information on a particular pattern.

Vertical spacing

When it comes to vertical spacing, there are a lot more possible values for the distance between elements. However, all of these values are multiples of 8.